Film and Television Institute of India in coordination with national Film Archive of India will conduct 2nd Winter Film Appreciation Course from 7-22 December 2018 at NFAI Phase 2, Kothrud, Pune.

1. Concept Note - An experiential journey of self discovery and understanding of Cinema

The Course is designed to integrate experiential insights of the human design with an understanding of how films are put together and are in fact, a created reflection of life from a particular point of view through characters, stories, subtext and overall visual and aural treatment.

Unesco has defined holistic education to include four aspects of learning. The first two that are universally prevalent, are learning to KNOW and learning to DO. This Course will address the third and fourth pillars, namely, learning to BE WITH OTHER PEOPLE and learning to BE.

The component of the workshop that addresses these latter two aspects of learning will be in the form of a series of conversations and exercises designed to give insight into BEING, and what is possible for a human being inside of a view of life that was hitherto unavailable. Through these conversations, each participant will discover his or her own human design and create breakthrough outcomes in any area of life he or she chooses.

The film appreciation component of the course will have a minimum of 12 feature films and some short films specially curated for the course followed by intensive discussions on craft and treatment. Films will be studied in depth, starting with the artistic intention of the director, the themes that carry this intention forward, as well as an understanding how this intention permeates every aspect of the mis-en-scene.

Further it will explore the subtext that underlies the stories that are being told and also the social milieu that existed when the film was made. The discussions will also include gender-sensitive issues and the way women are perceived in society and portrayed in cinema.

Given that life and cinema are closely related, the integrated discussions on the narratives in films and the human design will in fact lead to a deeper understanding of both. There will also be some time devoted to exploring the links between non-temporal visual arts, music, literature and cinema. Again this will be more experiential than theoretical, using pieces of music, writing and art works, understanding how principles of composition that underlie all these have much in common though the medium of expression is different.

It should be noted that this Course, both in its content as well as approach, is distinct from the Film Appreciation course held by FTII and NFAI every summer, and thus should not be seen as a condensed version of that course.

2. Course Director: Ms. Arunaraje Patil

Arunaraje Patil passed out of Film and Television Institute of India (FTII) Pune in 1969, specialising in Film Editing. Having won 5 National Awards she is a critically acclaimed award-winning filmmaker. She is a writer, editor (first trained woman technician to come out of FTII) director and producer. Advertising films, documentaries, television serials and features – she has done them all.

Her feature films include SHAQUE, GEHRAYEE, SITUM, RIHAAEE, PATITA, BHAIRAVI, and KEH DO NA. Many of her films have strong women themes and she has been a voice for women. She has been passionate about empowering women and represented them in many forums. She has been a Trustee of Stree Bal Shakti, an NGO and also has worked with commercial sex workers in the red light area, writing about their life in verse form as ‘Red-light Verses’.

Actively involved in film education, she has been a part of decision-making bodies and teaching the subjects of Screenwriting, Direction, Editing & Production in many film schools. She has been Vice Chairman, Governing Council, FTII.

She has served on many juries, including National Film Awards, and has been a strong voice for documentaries.

She has won 5 National Awards for her documentaries, ‘Mallika Sarabhai’, ‘A New Paradigm’ and ‘Behind the Glass Wall’ the latter two were about children with special needs.

As a keen student and practitioner of ontology she has been involved in transformational work since 1997. She has been a Landmark Forum Leader and has led transformational programs for more than 10,000 people, also making a difference as a life coach and motivational speaker. Apart from writing her own scripts, she has written several articles which have been published.

Her autobiography called FREEDOM - My story published by Harper Collins was released in 2017. This year she has directed a Marathi feature film FIREBRAND, produced by Priyanka Chopra.

Assistant Course Director: Sh. Kuntal Bhogilal

Film maker and teacher Kuntal Bhogilal studied at Mayo College, Ajmer and St. Xavier’s, Mumbai before graduating in Economics from Cornell University, New York and completing post graduation in film direction from FTII in 1995.

He assisted Ketan Mehta (SARDAR, MAYA MEMSAAB) Rajan Khosa (DANCE OF THE WIND) and Mani Kaul (NAUKAR KI KAMEEZ).

Kuntal conducts several workshops and classes on various aspects of cinema in various institutions including an annual series for University of Washington, Seattle.

He has also directed advertising films for the Swiss company Victorinox and served as in-house filmmaker for 9 years at Vipassana International Academy, Igatpuri.

Trained with Landmark Worldwide in leadership, Kuntal now assists Arunaraje Patil, ex-Landmark Forum leader in conducting workshops for various organisations, in powerful listening and speaking.

He is trained in vocal Hindustani classical music (Dhrupad) with Dagar brothers.
