PRESS RELEASE

FTII ANNOUNCES ACTING AND FILM MAKING COURSES FOR CHILDREN DURING DIWALI HOLIDAYS.

For the second consecutive year in a row, children will have a lot to look forward to from Film and Television Institute of India (FTII) Pune during this Diwali vacation ! Short courses in Acting and Film Making are in the offing.

A 15-day Basic Acting Workshop for Children of age 7-17 will be held from 3-18 November 2018 in two batches (forenoon and afternoon).

The Workshop aims to help kids shape their body language and improve their learning skills. It will familiarize them with a range of acting approaches, voice and speech modulations, and ways of using the multiple possibilities of the body and its flexibilities. They will be trained using a variety of theatre, martial and meditative practices to achieve this.

Course Director Devendranath Sankaranarayanan, is a performance researcher, theatre practitioner, and acting coach. He holds a Master of International Performance Research from University of Warwick (UK), University of Amsterdam (Netherlands), and University of Helsinki/Tampere (Finland) with Erasmus Mundus scholarship of European Union. He has earlier conducted FTII's acting workshops in Pune, Port Blair, Rangat (Andaman & Nicobar Islands) and Delhi.

A 7-day Basic Film Orientation Course for Children of age 11-17 years is being organised in two batches ; Nov 3-10 and Nov 11-17.

The children will learn the basics of film making through Ideation,Script Writing, Screenplay, Script breakdown, Storyboard, Shoot planning, Shooting, Editing, adding title and exporting it as movie file.

Course Director Ritesh Taksande, who specialises in teaching film making skills to kids, has earlier conducted FTII's Film Orientation Courses for Children in Pune, Patna, Rangat and Car Nicobar (Andaman & Nicobar Islands) and Rudraprayag (Uttarakhand).

The Courses are open to children from any part of India. Seats are limited, admission will be on first-come-first-served basis.The last date for applying is 22nd October 2018. Course details are available on www.ftiindia.com
